

Development Team

Enso Village has engaged a talented team of experts to collaborate closely on the concept, design and construction of this unprecedented community.

Founded in 1948, HKIT Architects brings enthusiasm, commitment and invaluable experience to every project and has been instrumental in the vision for Enso Village. The firm is located in Oakland, California and employs approximately 50 professional staff who are dedicated to design and client relationships. HKIT's size and structure allows for specialization and client attentiveness—common characteristics of smaller firms—as well as the strength and flexibility that is found in firms with a larger group of professionals.

MITHUN

As the project architect for Enso Village, Mithun is a mission-driven, design-first firm committed to delivering the highest caliber work with the most collaborative teams in the profession. The firm's practice is founded on a process of listening. "Listening to our clients, communities, environment, partners, and teams—it's in our DNA."

Gates and Associates, landscape architects for Enso Village, consists of a tribe of 35+ creatives who come together to make life better with one simple goal—getting people outside. The firm's forte is connecting clients to the nature around them. The root of their designs is based on the primary function of the space and the user experience, which is then grown organically into a design that suits those needs.

ForrestPerkins is a distinct studio of Perkins Eastman, a global firm with a multidisciplinary philosophy, and has been engaged as the interior designer for Enso Village. In addition to their extensive experience in senior housing, they have studied "Centers for Healthy Living" in operation throughout the country and have incorporated their learnings into their design practice.
